ANNIVERSARY PREMIERE — Southern Baptists gathered in Temple Baptist Church, Memphis, Tenn., May 6 to observe the 30th anniversary of their Cooperative Program. Marking the 30th anniversary were premiere showings of a film, "Together We Build," and a color filmstrip, "Hours that Bless." Both tell how the Cooperative Program works. Shown preparing for the premiere are, left to right, Merrill D. Moore, director of promotion, Executive Committee; Herbert Gabhart, Memphis, pastor and chairman of the local planning committee; Earl Waldrup, secretary of the Sunday School Board's audio-visual department, and Austin Crouch, first executive secretary of the Executive Committee, which distributes Cooperative Program money. 9 Russian Baptists Will Attend Parley

Dr. Louie D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist Church, Atlanta, and member of the Southern Baptist Convention executive committee, said today that nine delegates from Russia will attend the Baptist World Alliance Meeting in London in July.

The group, already certified will be headed by Jacob Zhidlov, president of the USSR Baptist Union, and Alexander Karev, executive secretary.

Among others attending will be three delegates from Poland and 34 from Spain.

Dr. Newton, who visited Baptists behind the Iron Curtain several years ago, said he hears regularly from Baptists there and receives their official church publication.

CLINTON, May 30 — Judge F. D. Hewitt, Chancery Judge of McComb, and a 1905 graduate of Mississippi College, compared conditions then and now and challenged the 297 graduates to do as well in the next 50 years.

He told the graduates that our progress has been wonderful in the past and will be greater in the future by many-fold.

Judge Hewitt opened his address by urging the graduates to follow the admonition of Paul said "covet the best gifts."

"Covet the best things in life," the speaker continued. "Covet patience, covet unselfishness, covet honor. Be ready to give answer to any man who asks the reason for the hope within you."

The need for guidance in the troubled future was emphasized by Judge Hewitt as he called on the graduates to "fashion trumpets in the manner of Moses" and "signal for the people to move forward." Foremost in the areas of danger which lie ahead, the jurist pointed out, are Communism, and the apathy toward the church in this nation.

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God," Judge Hewitt quoted in closing, "and these things will be added unto you."

Earlier in his address the speaker had pointed to the great leadership which the Mississippi College has produced. He gave special notice to Mrs. Will Whittington, wife of the former congressman, who was a member of the Class of 1905 and was the first woman in modern times to receive a degree from Mississippi College. Mrs. Whittington had been the speaker at the Alumni Luncheon earlier Monday.

Ralph M. Taylor, Jr., Carrollton, was awarded the W. H. Sumrall award for having maintained the highest scholastic record during his four years at Mississippi College.

Miami must enlarge its auditorium facilities if it expects again to attract as large a convention as the Southern Baptist group, one of the nation's largest. Hundreds of people were milling around outside Dinner Key Auditorium, unable to find seats, while others stood in the aisles, filled the wings, the balcony and the rear of the auditorium.

We have often published it, and we publish it again, that the Baptist Record pays no attention to unsigned material. We recently received a clipping from the Baptist Record mailed in Tupelo, but the sender thereof did not have nerve enough to sign his name. There is nothing wrong with the clipping, but unless we know who sent it, it will get no attention at this end of the line.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Science finds healing substance that relieves pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* At all drug counters—money back guarantee. *©

SBC Highlights

The Miami Convention is now history. But as the Convention became a matter of memory there lingers the knowledge of the spiritual powers unleashed, the high resolves formulated, "the inspiration received and the progressive programs promoted."

There were no lofty mountain peaks nor were there any low levels.

In most cases the overflow crowds sat silently and worshipfully while their honored and chosen leaders opened the Book, listed their achievements, and sat forth their programs.

Listed below are a few of the outstanding features of the Convention. But we emphasize that every thing was a feature and their order of listing does not necessarily indicate the order of their importance.

1. The spirit was harmonious. Nobody intimated that anyone had ulterior motives. No efforts were made to silence anyone. Everyone had the opportunity to speak, although most people seemed satisfied.

2. The addresses without exception were good, informing, and inspiring.

3. The future program is sensible, worthy, aggressive, and God-centered.

4. All causes were well-treated. None seemed to seek advantages at the expense of other objects.

5. The fact that Baptists lived up to the name Christian. Hotel managers commented on their fine behavior and lack of rowdiness as is the habit of some groups; the newspapers emphasized the fact that when three cars of Baptist messengers collided, there was no cursing, no rowdiness, but a Christian spirit among all.

6. As usual, Foreign Mission night and Home Mission night were among the high spots as dedicated people shared their joys and longings.

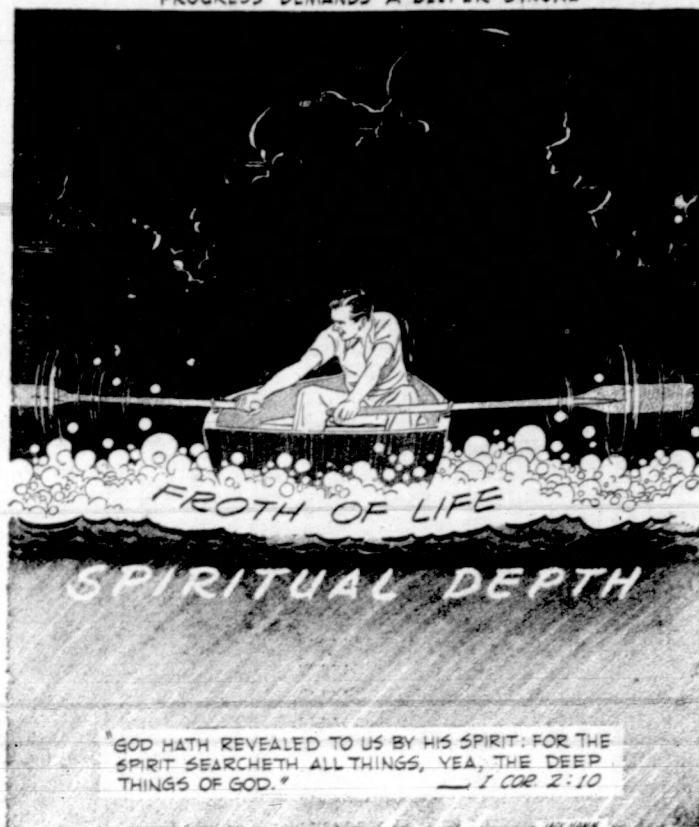

7. It was inspiring to note the growing interest among newspapers. Year by year the number of reporters increases. Newsmen go where news and interest is. And they have found out that Baptists are news.

8. It was a source of joy to see the Convention adopt its largest budget ($10,000,000), to hear the report that 1954 was our greatest year in finances, membership, accomplishments, and growth.

Surely all were thrilled as the Seminaries reported record enrollments; the Youth Night Service overflowed the auditorium, and the Convention voted to require agencies to give prior publicity to proposed actions.

9. The music was all that we could ask. There were many musical groups on the program but for this Mississippian, by choice, none excelled our own

PROGRESS DEMANDS A DEEPER STROKE

Mississippi College Choir.

One highlight (at least to us) was the absence of welcoming address and the reply thereto. Too long have we wasted time in such unneeded procedure. We knew we were welcome in Miami and Miami knew we were glad to be there.

We hope no future program committee goes back to the ancient and useless practice of having a welcome address and a reply thereto.

Naturally, with more than 11,000 registered messengers, there were differences of opinion. But while we have our differences and diversities, it is to our eternal credit that we have achieved a unity which redounds to the glory of God, to the advancement of His cause and to the enrichment of spiritual experience.

We have often said and now repeat, "Baptists tell their leaders what to do in contrast to some religious bodies whose leaders or LEADER tells the members what they can or cannot do."

Southern Baptists are still standing firmly on the Bible. No speaker even uttered a doubt of its authority and all of them made it the foundation of their words.

And finally, Southern Baptists seem to know and realize their unlimited possibilities and unlimited resources with God as a partner to serve those possibilities. Every institution and agency, realizing the greatness of the task, is making progress and looking to the future for even greater accomplishments.

Rev. Joe Abrams Is Interim Editor

Beginning with next week's issue, the Baptist Record editor will be Rev. Joe Abrams. He will serve in this position for the next few weeks while we go to London to report the meetings of the Baptist World Alliance.

In connection with the trip to London we plan to visit the Holy Land and places of historic interest in Europe.

We plan to report, through the Baptist Record, on the significant religious things we see and hear.

We leave the direction of the Baptist Record in capable hands. Mr. Abrams has done an outstanding job in developing the Promotion Department of Mississippi Baptists as well as giving part-time service to the Baptist Record.

We have only one fear in leaving for these few weeks. That is that Mr. Abrams will produce a much improved Baptist Record and thus cause our readers to realize even more than they do now that the Baptist Record can get along as well or better without us than with us.

We have two requests.

One: When we return, August 1, please don't humiliate us too much by telling us how much better the Record has been during our absence.

Two: Don't mention the improvements to the Convention Board. They might get the idea that a change is needed.

We hope to provide some interesting facts about the things we see and hear in the land where our Lord lived and loved and led.

We bespeak for Mr. Abrams the same consideration and cooperation that you have given us.

Miami Greet Great Religion Gathering

We give below an editorial which appeared in the Miami Herald. We are certain that we express the sentiment of all Southern Baptists for these kind words.

GREATER MIAMI welcomes the Southern Baptist Convention which opened yesterday at Dinner Key auditorium.

An estimated 15,000 persons are here for the four-day meeting. We hope that they will not be perturbed by the rains which greeted their arrival. We are confident they will be glad with us that a long drought was broken.

Miami is happy that one of the nation's great religion groups has elected to meet here.

There are some 700,000 persons who live here the year-round within sight of our courthouse.

They are God-fearing, industrious, home-loving, church-building people.

The presence here of the Southern Baptist Convention attests to that phase of our community living, too frequently obscured elsewhere by the recreation appeals of our unparalleled subtropic attractions.

The meeting now in session is a sort of benediction for this youthful, vigorous, rapidly growing community. We hope the convention remembers us kindly and comes back again.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor Goodrich:

As a long-time reader of the Baptist Record, I want to express my appreciation for it. I always enjoy it. As I heard one speaker say, "It keeps us up on things and what Baptists are not up on, they are down on." It helps me to keep up with the many activities of all our mission fields, both here and around the world.

THE HEAVENS DECLARE is published by Vantage Press, Inc. New York 1, New York and sells for $2.50. Taking his title from the Nineteenth Psalm, "The heavens declare the glory of God..." George P. La Borde has intermingled with sketches of his adventures as a mountain climber the spiritual truths he has learned while pursuing this invigorating hobby. Mr. La Borde has deep reverence for the marvels of nature and sincere respect for the spiritual goals man may achieve through striving. He tells of his adventures in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, the Baldpates, the Grand Tetons, the Adirondacks, the majestic peaks of the Pacific Northwest, and others. Order from the Baptist Book Store or the publisher.

MANASSEH'S SIN AND REPENTANCE

Bible Texts: II Chronicles 33.
THE KING ETERNAL AND MANASSEH

I. WITH THE KING ETERNAL AND WITH HIM ALONE IS ALL KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING

In this study of the kings of Judah we have variety. Several of them make beginnings that challenge our admiration, and then the young king grows older and, if to mock our lofty expectations, gives rein to dormant tendencies in his nature that we dared hope were not there. Our heads are bowed in perplexity and we vainly ask ourselves and our close friends why this sort of thing occurs.

But it is restful to know that there is One who can untangle the fouled threads of the skein and read without error the unspelt scroll of the destiny of man. Manasseh chooses to disregard the good counsels of those who had direction of his breeding, but it stands forever written that, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," and the fact that a given man sits on a royal throne or dwells in a hovel makes not the slightest difference to Him whose measureless power guarantees the harvest.

The appearances and the realities of the present may confuse and bewilder the finite minds of men, and questions of why the wicked flourish and while the good so often suffer what seems to us to be so unjust, we act wisely when we leave with Him the dispelling of the smogs through which we can not see, the doors to which we find no key.

II. THE YOUNG KING MANASSEH WENT WRONG

One of the mysteries of the Old Testament narratives is that a Godly king like Hezekiah should have a son of such wickedness as Manasseh. The son followed not in his father's footsteps nor did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord.

We have an old saying to the effect that preachers' sons are the worse boys in the community. Such a statement is forever untrue. We think of Lyman Beecher's seven preacher sons, among them the eloquent Henry Ward. There are said to be more preachers' sons in "Who's Who" by many times than the sons of members of any other profession. So in every walk of life the sons of good men grow into good men, though there are in every class notable exceptions.

We have before us in this lesson a case of the latter kind. Manasseh was the son of a good king, but in his early years he went all overboard for evil. He set up altars for Baal and Ashtoreth in the sacred Temple courts; he dedicated horses to the sun; he approved while his subjects sent up little clouds of incense to the sun, moon, and the twelve signs of the Zodiac. If he missed any god anywhere he was sorry; he tried to include them all.

Manasseh had the idea that one religion was as good as another. Where he obtained that idea it is hard to say. He certainly did not get it from his father prophet, Isaiah. Somewhere along the line an evil mind, or a group of evil minds, got at him, and sowed in him the seeds of royal ruin.

By the time he was eighteen he was an idolater. Caught in the current of the rushing river of evil Manasseh could not stop. He was swept on; He went on to sacrifice at least one of his sons, and maybe more to the fire-god, Moloch.

III. THE KING ETERNAL REACTS TO MANASSEH'S WICKEDNESS

"He that sitteth in the heavens" had Manasseh always in mind. His just but gracious eye saw, along with the dross the pure gold in the young king's composition. He held the rod of correction suspended until the young king had run his wicked course a very long distance, until he had spent years in tearing down the good which his father and Isaiah had built and erecting in their stead the evil institutions which the two good and great men had wrecked, until he had seduced the people of Judah from the God of their salvation into the worship of the false gods of the wicked nations about them.

The reaction of the King Eternal had been from the first the same. His pure eye be held with loathing the deeds of the young king and His righteous heart was both pained and angered at what He beheld. In His own good time His smiting rod of chastisement fell with stinging force. "The Lord brought upon them the captain of host of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh among the thorns and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

IV. MANASSEH LEARNS HIS LESSON WELL

"When he was in affliction, he besought the Lord his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. And prayed unto Him." We can have no sympathy with Manasseh's wild career into sin; but neither can we improve upon his repentance. The word "repentance" is not used in this passage but the meaning of the word bulks large in the passage.

Repentance means a change of heart, a change of mind which implies a change of heart and consequently of desire and purpose. Repentance is a change of mind inward, Godward, worldward, and selfward. Manasseh's repentance was genuine, as is seen in his works of restitution. He cleansed the temple of the unclean altars with which he had defiled it. He brought unto God acceptable sacrifices.

Manasseh was, of course, unable to make full restitution for the evil he had done. No one of us evil doers ever are able to do so. We cannot unspeak the bad words spoken; We cannot undo the bads deeds done: We cannot erase completely from the minds of our fellows the evil habits which we have taught them. But Manasseh, like Paul in a later day, did the very best he could do to undo all the evil he had done and crown his life with good.

V. THE KING ETERNAL SHOWS MERCY

"And He was entreated of him, and heard his supplication, and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom." This action upon the part of God stamps the repentance of Manasseh as genuine; and our reason for this opinion is simply this, "God knows us all together."

SUMMER MISSIONARIES

Mary Kate
McManus

Don
Stewart

Mary Kate McManus, of Copiah-Lincoln Jr. College, is to work in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Don Stewart, of William Carey College, in Columbus, Ohio, both under the Home Mission Board and both as the representatives of Mississippi BSU, this summer.

Let us not forget to be faithful and earnest in our prayers for these and our other Student Summer Missionaries.

MISCELLANEA

The recent Convention in Miami was, in many respects, a great one. Okla. Sen. Kerr's address on Christian Education; Louisville Seminary's Dr. The-ron Price's, on the Church, and especially the Youth Night service with J. P. Allen, Howard Butt, et. al. were highlights. Miss. College's Choir was outstanding.

Two more students from Ole Miss, since last report, have made professions of faith, and three more have made dedications.

Blue Mountain made it again! First Magnitude, that is. Congratulations!

Carthage Baptist Church, Troy Prince, Pastor, plans a Youth-led Revival for June 6-13.

An earnest request that information about any and all Miss. students who are to attend any school in Arizona this fall be sent to Mr. Ronnie Armstrong, Box 1003, Eloy, Ariz., has been received.

Sunflower Jr. students were active in Moorhead Church's recent Youth Week. Thomas Ballard as Pastor; Bernard Duggins as Chairman of Deacons; Billie Fay Mills as W.M.U. President; Nan Allen as Organist and Ruth Barlow as Pianist.

Writing of their Youth-led Revival last year, Pastor J. W. Wood, of Lumberton, says: "To me, it was one of the greatest things that has ever happened in our church . . . we plan to have a Youth-led Revival again next year."

Mt. Moriah Honors Ministry Of Pastor

Mt. Moriah Church, Calhoun Association, has set aside the third Sunday in June to honor Rev. A. F. Brasher who has been in the ministry for fifty years. He has been the pastor for 39 years at Mt. Moriah. He is a native of Calhoun County, and a descendant of a pioneer family.

A fine woman, a native of Mississippi, is available as a church secretary or educational director. She has had 14 years' experience and is well-known to the editor of the Baptist Record, who unqualifiedly recommends her. She is also experienced as a librarian, devout and devoted. Anyone interested in such a worker may communicate with the editor of the Baptist Record, who will pass on the information.

—BR—

Widows of Southern Baptist pastors figure in your offering for ministerial relief, too. No one likes to see a woman who has served long and faithfully beside her husband come to old age in need. Yet many do. We like to think we care for our own, and yet Southern Baptists did not give enough money last year to ministerial relief to take care of the needs.

Will you see that your church has a part in the fellowship offering for ministerial relief this year?

WHY WAIT until hospital, medical and surgical care becomes necessary before you are prepared for it?

Would you be able to pay for necessary care if one of your family had to go to the hospital immediately because of illness or accidental injury.

You may be one of the many families that, should the need for hospital care arise, find it difficult to carry the burdensome expense of providing sufficient hospital and medical care.

The best way to be prepared for any unexpected illness or injury is to become a member of Blue Cross-Blue Shield health care plan.

Why delay, if you are eligible for individual or group membership, call or write your Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan today.
